January 12, 2024

Hello, all!

The IRS has finally set the opening filing date to January 29, 2024. There are not many changes to the tax laws for 2023. Here's what you need to be aware of:

- The biggest change is the enhancement of the home energy credits. Please bring your documentation and we will see what will work;
- The bonus depreciation has dropped from 100% to 80%;
- The clean vehicle credit is still in effect with a few adjustments;
- If you have an HSA account, do not forget your 1099-SA;
- If you have Marketplace Insurance, please bring the 1095-A;
- Not everyone with credit card sales will receive a 1099-K, but if you do, please bring it with you;
- Business meals have been reduced to a 50% deduction. Entertainment expenses are still not deductible;
- Effective for 2023, required minimum distributions are required by April 1st of the year following that which the taxpayer reaches age 73.

If you have an LLC, a Partnership or Corporation, there is a new form that needs to be prepared and filed. It is called the Beneficial Ownership Information form (BOI). An existing company has until January 1, 2025, to file. A new company must file within 90 days. The website is <https://boiefiling.fincen.gov>.

I have listed some of the important tax dates below:

January 15	4 th quarter estimates due for 2023
January 31	Businesses must furnish W-2's and 1099's to the recipient and to the IRS
March 1	Farm returns must be filed and paid
March 15	S-Corps and Partnership returns for 2023 are due or file an extension
April 15	Individual and C-Corporation returns are due or file an extension; 1 st quarter estimates due for 2024
May 15	Personal property tax returns and not-for-profit returns must be filed
June 17	2 nd quarter estimates for 2024 are due
	September 16 Corporate and partnership returns must be filed if they were on extension; 3 rd quarter estimates for 2024 are due;
October 15	2023 Individual returns due if extended.

I cannot stress how important it is to file 1099's if you pay someone in the course of your trade or business who is not incorporated over $600. Information needed is name, address, federal ID number or SSN, and amount paid. I can file these for you. Just get me the information needed so they can be filed by January 31st.

The basic organizer along with any specialty organizers (farm, daycare, business, rental, 1099's and W-2's) are available on my website. I encourage you to use these organizers for your benefit. If you do not have access to these, please call and we can mail whatever you need to you.

I also urge you to look at my website at www.jillcrim.com for more information. Please call Jane at (765) 544-2373 to schedule your appointment. Call early to get the time you prefer. Matt will again be taking care of most of the dropped-off returns. Tax returns dropped off without an appointment after March 15th will be subject to having an extension filed. Last year, we were overwhelmed by the amount of drop-offs. Again, we are accepting no new clients except for special circumstances. If you have questions or need help, please do not hesitate to contact me. We are praying for a great tax season this year. God bless you all!
